

African American Studies
Darwin Turner Endowment Fund Pledge Form

Greetings! The African American Studies program at the University of Iowa was one of the first African American Studies programs in the country established in 1968. We need your help! We are initiating a $100,000 fundraising drive to create the Darwin Turner AAS Endowment Fund. This fund is named after Dr. Darwin Turner (1931-1991) who was chair of AAS from 1972-1991. Turner was considered a genius earning his B.A. and M.A. degrees by the age of 18 and his Ph.D. in English from the University of Chicago by the age of 25. This endowment fund will enable the University of Iowa AAS program to give annual scholarships to majors, assist faculty with scholarly research, invite prominent speakers to campus and coordinate exciting student events and activities. The project will run from 2016-2018. Please make a pledge or send a direct donation!

4 pledges for $10,000 = $ 40,000
6 pledges for $5000 = $ 30,000
